Highlights

1. Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgents
   A Coalition air strike in Yusifiyah killed three terrorists who were linked to a local vehicle-borne improvised explosive device (VBIED) facilitation network November 13. Coalition Forces tracked the terrorists’ movement on the outskirts of Yusifiyah and engaged and destroyed the vehicle with precision fires. The operation’s results are anticipated to significantly disrupt VBIED production in the Baghdad region.

   Prime Minister Maliki told parliamentarians November 12 that he was planning a “comprehensive” reshuffle of ministers in his national unity government and scolded lawmakers for failing to show their loyalty to a united Iraq. Prime Ministerial Press Adviser Yassin Majid said that the reshuffle could include between seven and nine ministers, but did not give specific names.

4. Help Iraq Build Government Capacity and Provide Essential Services
   Construction on Phase III of the Najaf Teaching Hospital is 88% complete and is estimated for completion December 31. The $9.95 million Iraq Reconstruction and Relief Fund project is a design-build, firm fixed price contract awarded to a local Iraqi company to renovate and repair the hospital. This refurbished hospital will serve as the primary medical teaching facility in Najaf City.
5. Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy
   Multinational bank HSBC recently opened branches in Erbil and Basrah. HSBC now has 400 Iraqi and seven expatriate staff working in a total of 14 branches throughout the country.

6. Help Iraq Strengthen the Rule of Law
   The Central Criminal Court of Iraq convicted 23 individuals October 27-November 1 for various crimes including possession of illegal weapons, possessing fake civil affairs and fake military identifications, using or taking advantage of someone else’s identification, heading, leading, joining armed groups and illegal border crossing.

7. Increase International Support for Iraq
   British Prime Minister Tony Blair called on Iran and Syria to join efforts to reduce violence in Iraq and emphasized the need for a broad Middle East strategy. This would include making clear to Damascus and Tehran that they can help in the region if they renounce terrorism and, in the case of Iran, its nuclear ambitions.

8. Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents
   Gunmen shot and killed Muhammad Mahmoud al-Ban, an al-Sharqiya TV cameraman November 13 in Mosul.
[1.] Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgency

Air Strike Kills Three Terrorists Linked to Baghdad VBIED Network:

- A Coalition Forces (CF) air strike in Yusifiyah killed three terrorists who were linked to a local vehicle-borne improvised explosive device (VBIED) facilitation network November 13. CF tracked the terrorists’ movement on the outskirts of Yusifiyah and engaged and destroyed the vehicle with precision fire. The operation’s results are anticipated to significantly disrupt VBIED production in the Baghdad region.

CF Target Al-Qaida Terrorists:

- Acting upon numerous credible intelligence sources November 8, CF near Muqdadiya killed ten al-Qaida terrorists responsible for bringing Foreign Fighters (FF) into the Muqdadiya area. At the objective site, CF also located and rescued an Iraqi policeman who had been taken hostage six days prior.

- In a separate action, CF detained ten suspected terrorists in an early morning raid in Baghdad November 12. Credible intelligence indicates the suspected terrorists have ties to key leaders of al-Qaida in Iraq’s network and are associated with the housing, movement and enabling of FF in Iraq, including the organization of suicide operations within Baghdad.
[1.] Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgency

ISF Capture Insurgents:

• Iraqi Special Forces, with Coalition advisors, conducted a raid November 12 in Arab A’ Jabur, capturing four members of an insurgent cell believed to be responsible for murders, kidnappings and bomb attacks against Iraqi civilians and Iraqi Security Forces (ISF).

• In another raid in Haswah November 13, Iraqi police, with Coalition advisors, captured six wanted insurgents who were allegedly responsible for Improvised Explosive Devices (IED) attacks, extortion, murder, kidnapping and car theft in the Haswah and Baghdad areas.

• Additionally, 8th Iraqi Army (IA) Division forces, with Coalition advisers, conducted a raid November 11 near Suwayrah and captured the suspected leader of an insurgent cell responsible for a coordinated attack that destroyed an IA headquarters in Suwayrah and for a car bomb attack in Suwayrah that killed at least nine and injured more than 50 Iraqi civilians.

IP Sign-Up 400 New Recruits in Ramadi:

- Over 400 men joined the Iraqi Police (IP) during a recent three-day recruiting drive in Ramadi, forming the largest IP class to date from the Ramadi area.

Suicide Bombers Kill 35 Police Recruits in Baghdad:

- Two suicide bombers attacked an Iraqi National Police base in west Baghdad's Qadissiyah neighborhood November 12, killing 35 potential recruits and wounding another 60.

Military Academy Instructors Complete Training:

- Military instructors from two of the three Iraqi military academies graduated from the trainer course at the Iraqi Military Academy – Zakho (IMAZ) November 9. The students, 16 from IMAZ and eight from the Iraqi Military Academy - al-Rustamayah, spent five weeks improving the skills they will use to instruct and train new Iraqi Army officers.
- The concept of the course was based on instruction from the British Brecon Academy where two other classes of Iraqi academy instructors have already attended training.

MoD Communications Network Adds New Technicians:

- Eight students graduated from a three-week specialized communication training class on the Defense Private Network (DPN), a new communication network used by the Ministry of Defense (MoD) November 9. The class was the first of four on the system and featured two weeks of classroom study and one week of hands-on training.

- Comprised of 18 self-sustained switching centers, the DPN is a new nationwide network system of wireless voice and data transmission switching stations that provides private communications to more than 200,000 uniformed and civilian MoD employees, allowing for quick and responsive information flow from commanders in the field to the MoD.

- The network currently supports 4,300 users and 28,000 calls per day, using only 15-20% of its potential capacity.

Iraq Announces Plans to Increase the Size of the Iraqi Military:

- The Government of Iraq (GoI) announced October 31 an initiative to increase the Iraqi military by approximately 18,700 troops. This initiative, which will reportedly be financed solely by the GoI, will provide the Iraqi Army with three additional division command headquarters, five additional brigade command headquarters, 20 additional battalions and one additional special operations battalion.

- This new initiative is in addition to a previously announced plan from the Prime Minister to add an additional 12,000 troops to the existing force structure, allowing the 112 existing combat brigades to each be staffed to 110% of their current authorized levels to offset temporary absences created by attrition and leaves.

IP Graduate 4,462 from Basic Training Courses in October:

- The IP Service graduated 4,462 police recruits from the ten-week basic training courses during October 2006. Additionally, 2,122 police students completed the three-week Transition Integration Program (TIP) for police officers with prior experience.

- To date, more than 87,000 IP have completed the eight or ten week basic training courses and nearly 50,000 police have completed the three-week TIP.

Maliki Calls for “Comprehensive” Cabinet Reshuffle:

- Prime Minister Maliki told parliamentarians November 12 in a closed session that he was planning a “comprehensive” reshuffle of ministers in his national unity government, and scolded lawmakers for failing to show their loyalty to a united Iraq.

- The move is aimed at addressing the six-month-old government’s failure to curb widespread corruption, reduce sectarian violence and improve public services. Speaking to a closed session of Parliament, Maliki did not disclose which ministers he planned to replace, but legislators close to the Prime Minister said he intends to maintain the political distribution of the current cabinet seats.

- Prime Ministerial Press Adviser Yassin Majid said that the reshuffle could include between seven and nine ministers, but did not give specific names.

- Iraqi parliamentarians have been forecasting a reshuffle for months, but this is the clearest indication from the government so far that a change in the government is imminent.
[3.] Help Iraqis to Forge a National Compact for Democratic Government—Developments

Iraq Accord Front Threatens Political Withdrawal:

- The main Sunni voting bloc in the Council of Representatives, the Iraqi Accord Front, threatened November 8 to withdraw from the political process and start carrying weapons if their demands are not met. The French Press Agency published a report that the Accord Front’s spokesman, Salim Abd Allah al-Jabouri, said that the Accord Front presented the political parties with a letter concerning their demands, which included dissolving militias and allowing only governmental forces to carry weapons.

Mass Abduction at Baghdad Research Institute:

• Dozens of employees of a government research institute in Baghdad were abducted November 14 by unknown gunmen in police uniforms claiming to be on an official anti-corruption mission with the Commission for Public Integrity (CPI) and that they had lists of wanted individuals. The head of the parliamentary education committee, Alaa Makki, said the abductees had been both Shia and Sunni and included the institute’s deputy general directors, employees and visitors. Iraq’s higher education minister ordered universities closed and asked the interior and defense ministries to protect universities and the ministry's departments.

• Iraq's interior minister ordered the arrest and interrogation of several high-ranking police officers over their handling of security. The police brigade commander in charge of the area, the police chief of Karrada - where the kidnappings took place - and a number of police officers are reportedly facing disciplinary action, though they are not suspects in the actual kidnappings.

• The BBC reports Prime Minister Maliki has called for the immediate arrests of those behind the kidnappings, saying that “what happened was not terrorism, rather it was due to dispute and conflict between militias from one side or another.” Since the abduction, authorities have reported that 40 captives have been released. Reports differ over the number still held captive.

[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy - Banking Sector

Central Bank’s US Dollar (USD) Currency Auction:

- The following table shows volume sold and exchange rates for USD in the Iraqi currency auction since January 3. Since September, the Central Bank has begun slowly appreciating the dinar, as suggested by the IMF, to tackle rampant inflation over the past year. This important and welcome appreciation accounts for the downturn in the dinar exchange rate, as show in the figure below.

Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy – Securities Markets

Trading of Iraqi Bonds on the International Secondary Bond Market:

- The following table shows the daily bond resale price and yield on Iraqi bonds issued January 20. The bonds were originally issued to about two-thirds of Iraq's commercial creditors as part of a debt exchange arrangement at Paris Club terms. Iraq's commercial debt was approximately $22 billion before the debt-swap arrangement. The bonds, which are not yet rated, will mature in 2028. The bonds' current yield of 9.58 percent remains one of the highest in the world for sovereign debt instruments.

Private Banking Sector:

• Multinational bank HSBC recently opened branches in Erbil and Basrah. HSBC now has 400 Iraqi and seven expatriate staff working in a total of 14 branches throughout the country.

Employment of Iraqi Contractors:

• US government agencies engaged in reconstruction have continued to make greater use of local firms through direct contracting. As of fall 2006, over 50% of the contracted Iraq Relief and Reconstruction Fund projects have gone directly to Iraqi firms.

Agriculture Sector:

• The Agriculture Reconstruction and Development Program for Iraq (ARDI) is importing 173 seed cleaners to be distributed throughout the country. Normally, seeds available to the Iraqi farmers have extraneous material such as rocks, twigs, dirt and seeds of multiple types of crops. Test plots with cleaned seed have produced two-to-six times the yield of fields without the cleaned seed.

• ARDI conducted a workshop with Iraqi veterinary organizations. The course began with a discussion on the transition of Iraq's economy from central planning to market-orientation and an introduction to basic economic principles. The Veterinary Syndicate will be able to use these skills immediately as they develop and maintain private service providers.

- The chart shows average daily power production in megawatt hours (MWh). 120,000 MWh goal equates to 20 hours at 6000 MW average supplied load or 24 hours at 5000 MW average supply load. Currently supplies are not much improved over last year when judged by hours of power, but this is due in part to an influx of new appliances. This has dramatically altered demand and diluted the effect of increased generation capacity on actual results.
