Highlights

1.0 Neutralize the Insurgents

• Iraqi Security Forces (ISF) continue operations to neutralize the insurgents.

2.0 Ensure the Continuation of Support for Iraq’s Electoral Process through 2005

• On April 28, The Transitional National Assembly overwhelmingly approved the cabinet of Iraq Prime Minister Ja’afar. This followed the approval of this list by the Presidency Council. The list included five positions that will be filled temporarily by other members of the cabinet (e.g. Ja’afar will act as Defense Minister) until a decision can be reached on permanent ministers.

3.0 Provide Jobs and Essential Services

• The Ministry of Electricity met with Turkey and Syria to discuss additional electricity imports for the summer and beyond. An agreement with Turkey was previously reached to supply $50 million in imported electricity.
4.0 Establish Foundations for a Strong Economy

- Vice President ‘Abd al-Mahdi told US officials in Washington that adoption of a fuel subsidy reform plan will be a top priority for the new Cabinet.

5.0 Establish Good Governance, Rule of Law

- The Ministry of Justice conducted an investigation concerning rights violations against detainees. The Minister clarified that any violations uncovered would be sent to the cabinet for possible prosecution.

6.0 Maintain International Engagement and Support

- After talks with the main opposition Social Democrats on April 20, Danish Prime Minister Anders Fogh Rasmussen expected broad political backing for a new six-month mandate to keep troops in Iraq. Denmark has some 500 troops serving with the Multi-National Forces in Iraq; the present mandate expires at the end of June.

- According to the Japan-Iraq Assistance Update, Japan is now providing grant aid totaling $1.5 billion to Iraq to rebuild the foundations of public life covering such areas as power generation, education, water supply and sanitation, health, and employment, as well as security. Up to $3.5 billion in aid will be provided for medium-term reconstruction.

- The UN lead for constitutional issues, South African Nicholas Fink Hayson, has arrived in Baghdad.

Data as of April 25, 2005
ITG Formation:

- On April 28, The Transitional National Assembly overwhelmingly approved the cabinet of Iraq Prime Minister Ja’afar. This followed the approval of this list by the Presidency Council. The list included five positions that will be filled temporarily by other members of the cabinet (e.g., Ja’afar will act as Defense Minister) until a decision can be reached on permanent ministers.

Transitional National Assembly (TNA):

- A USAID partner held a “lessons learned” debriefing for the organizers of the first TNA session to better prepare for future sessions. Attended by TNA staff members and representatives of the Common Press Information Center (CPIC) and International Press Center (IPC), most agreed that although the TNA session was a success from an organizational standpoint, there were clear problems with the TNA’s ability to liaise with the Arabic media.
  - In response to the criticism, USAID’s partner—in collaboration with CPIC and the State Department’s Public Affairs Office—organized a series of practical training sessions for the TNA Public Affairs Office on how to work with the media prior to and during parliamentary sessions.
[2.0] Ensure the Continuation of Support for Iraq’s Electoral Process through 2005 – Developments

Transitional National Assembly (TNA) cont’d:

• A USAID partner providing support to the TNA hosted its third “Engendering the Constitution” meeting in late March, attended by 42 female members of the TNA, Governorate Councils and various non-governmental organizations.

Continuing TNA Responsibilities:

- Serve as Iraq's national legislature until the election of a new government under a permanent constitution.
- Put to a vote of confidence the Prime Minister and Council of Ministers nominees; nominees must be approved in the TNA by a simple majority.
- According to the Transitional Administrative Law, the TNA is to draft Iraq's new Constitution by August 15, 2005; this will be presented to the Iraqi people for their approval in a national referendum by October 15, 2005.
- If it is approved, an election for a permanent Iraqi government under that new Constitution will occur by the end of 2005.

- Jan 30 Election Day
- Feb Results Announced
- Mar 16 TNA Seated
- Drafting of Constitution
- Aug 15 Deadline for drafting of Constitution
- Oct 15 National Referendum on Constitution
- Dec 15 National Elections for Permanent Government
[3.0] Create Jobs and Provide Essential Services – Economy

Oil Update:
• Crude oil prices in world markets for the week ending April 22 closed with the following prices:
  – Kirkuk Crude at $45.29/barrel
  – Dated Brent at $51.37/barrel
  – Basra Light at $44.49/barrel
  – Oman/Dubai at $46.39/barrel

  WTI Cushing, Dated Brent, and Oman/Dubai have replaced the OPEC basket in this section as these three crudes determine Iraq crude prices.

Job Creation:

- The International Labor Organization (ILO) plans to support the Ministry of Planning in adopting a national employment action plan, and is pushing to have the plan added to Iraq’s National Development Strategy. The ILO will advise the Ministry of Planning on capacity building, technical assistance and a national labor code.

- Forty wheat technology field days are being held this week in Arbil, Dahuk, and As Sulaymaniyah. The field days, bring together farmers and Ministry of Agriculture extension staff to discuss the results of improved technologies used in wheat production. Approximately 1,300 Iraqi farmers are expected to participate the field days that will demonstrate improved cultivation techniques.

Public Distribution System (PDS):

- The Ministry of Finance (MoF) has transferred $75 million to the MOT to procure an emergency stock of wheat flour in the coming weeks to increase buffer stocks against future shortages of wheat.
[3.0] Create Jobs and Provide Essential Services – Education and Health Care

Education:

• PCO has completed 457 schools renovations to date and a further 253 are under construction. Under the Accelerated Iraq Reconstruction Program (AIRP), an additional 24 school renovations have been completed and 16 are underway.
  – 840 schools are scheduled for completion by mid-2005.

• An Iraqi NGO that focuses on the arts conducted 48 three-day participatory art workshops for youth in southern Iraq. More than 3,000 youth participated in the workshops that focused on artistic self-expression and using art as a social and educational outlet.
  – With art programs stifled by the previous regime, schools around the country had insufficient resources to provide wide-scale art instruction. This program enhances and broadens education for Iraqi youth.
  – An Iraq Transition Initiative grant provided for the equipment, stipends and lodging for these workshops.

Health Care:

• Construction is underway on 142 new primary health care (PHC) facilities across Iraq and one has been completed. Under the AIRP, an additional two PHCs are under construction and eight have been completed.
[3.0] Create Jobs and Provide Essential Services – Water and Sanitation & Telecommunications

Water and Sanitation:

• PCO has 83 water treatment projects underway, completing 11 to date. Under the AIRP, there are a further 13 water treatment projects under construction and 36 have been completed.

• PCO has completed 11 Small Water System Rehabilitation projects, which are delivering clean water to 120,960 residents.
  – A total of 145 projects are planned throughout all 18 Governorates, of which 75 have started. Projects are awarded to directly to local contractors and local water authorities.

Telecommunications:

• As of April 23, the Mobile Switching Office (MSO) was powered up. 15 base stations in Baghdad are operational. All base stations will be turned over to the Iraqis in June.

• Five Iraqi agencies have been connected to the Wireless Broadband Loop. All 35 agencies will be connected by May 30.
[3.0] Create Jobs and Provide Essential Services – Electricity Overview

- Electricity load served in the last week (April 18-24) averaged of 81,700 MWh. Hours of available power averaged nine hours in Baghdad and eight hours country-wide.

Data as of April 27, 2005
[5.0] Establish Good Governance, Rule of Law – Refugees, Democracy and Human Rights

Justice Ministry Conducts Investigation:

• The Ministry of Justice conducted an investigation concerning rights violations against detainees. The Minister clarified that any violations uncovered would be sent to the cabinet for possible prosecution.

Iraqi Delegation in Tehran Discusses the Refugee Situation:

• The Ministry of Displacement and Migration recently sent a delegation to Tehran. The delegation primarily discussed the situation of Iraqi refugees who lost their nationalities in Iran.

National Democratic Institute (NDI) Delegation to Croatia:

• NDI sent 16 representatives from eight Iraqi political parties to Croatia for in-depth campaign training on research, goal-setting, targeting, message development, voter contact, media relations, and campaign planning.
[5.0] Establish Good Governance, Rule of Law – Refugees, Democracy and Human Rights

Award of Civil Society Micro Grants:

- After a review of all micro grant applications, a USAID partner providing support to the Iraqi Transitional Government finalized the selection of nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) ready to implement proposed projects related to civic education and to contribute to the national constitutional process. A first group of NGOs will be officially awarded grants in April, based on the quality of their applications and projects. On the day of the awards, 22 organizations will participate in a day-long training workshop on donor relations, financial management and report writing.

Ministry of Oil Takes Charge:

- The Iraqi Oil Ministry has fired more than 450 employees suspected of selling fuel on the black market. The move is the most recent in a series of measures designed to crack down on corruption within the industry. The Oil Ministry's general inspector Ali Muhsin Ismael said the government's inability to provide a secure environment was partly responsible for problems in the sector.

Iraq Law Schools Strengthen Democracy and Promote Stability:

- USAID’s Higher Education and Development Program (HEAD) works with Iraqi law schools to build strong links with international academic counterparts, creating an on-campus environment that favors pro-democratic, moderate thought, and actively involves professors and students in the effort to develop a new constitution and support the nascent political process. DePaul University’s International Human Rights Law Institute (IHRLI) is working through the HEAD program to strengthen legal instruction at three Iraqi law schools.

International Support:

- After talks with Social Democrats on April 20, Danish Prime Minister Anders Fogh Rasmussen expected broad political backing for a new six-month mandate to keep troops in Iraq. Denmark has some 500 troops serving with the Multi-National Forces in Iraq; the present mandate expires at the end of June.

- According to the Japan-Iraq Assistance Update, Japan is providing grant aid totaling $1.5 billion to Iraq to rebuild the foundations of public life. The assistance covers areas such as power generation, education, water supply and sanitation, health, and employment, as well as security. Up to $3.5 billion in aid will be provided for medium-term reconstruction.

- Italy has announced it will contribute 500,000€ to the Trustee Fund created by NATO to finance transportation and housing costs for Iraqi officers who will attend the Atlantic Alliance training course set to begin in the coming months.
