1. Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgents
   Iraqi soldiers from the 1st Battalion, 4th Brigade, 1st Iraqi Army Division, cleared the rural village of Subiyhat, near Falluja, of insurgents, marking their second independent operation.

2. Transition Iraq to Security Self-Reliance
   On February 7, the Iraqi Navy Marine Unit took the lead in protecting the Al Basrah Oil Terminal, which accounted for 98 percent of Iraq’s crude oil exports in 2005.

3. Help Iraqis to Forge a National Compact for Democratic Government
   The Independent Electoral Commission of Iraq (IECI) announced the certified results of the December 15, 2005 Council of Representatives election.

4. Help Iraq Build Government Capacity and Provide Essential Services
   The Al Fathah pipeline river and canal crossing projects are scheduled to be completed in March. Once completed, the project will increase the capacity to pump crude oil, refined products, and natural gas across the Tigris River. This will enable more crude oil to be exported via the Iraq-Turkey pipeline (ITP) if production rates increase.
5. Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy
The Baghdad Provincial Council (BPC) is supervising the collection of applications for inclusion in the list of the one million neediest families that will qualify for assistance under the new social safety net rules that were adopted by the Transitional National Assembly in December 2005.

6. Help Iraq Strengthen the Rule of Law
Chief Judge Raouf Abdel-Rahman pressed ahead with Saddam’s trial, ordering Saddam and his seven co-defendants to attend the session despite a defense boycott.

7. Increase International Support for Iraq
Iraqi reaction to the Danish cartoons has provoked local protests in Basra and demands for a Danish withdrawal from Iraq. The Iraqi government continues to support the Danish presence in Iraq.

8. Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents
On February 12, Ambassador Zalmay Khalilzad published an op-ed in the Los Angeles Times stating that “this is a moment of opportunity” in Iraq.
[1.] Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgency

Iraqi, US Security Forces Capture, Kill Insurgents:
- Iraqi and US soldiers killed two terrorists and captured 16 in the Tikrit area, and Iraqi police and American troops captured eight suspected terrorists and destroyed two weapons caches in the Baghdad area. Iraq's National Police working with Multinational Division Baghdad soldiers detained the suspects today and destroyed the caches.

Iraqi Army Leads Operation:
- Iraqi soldiers from the 1st Battalion, 4th Brigade, 1st Iraqi Army Division, cleared the rural village of Subiyhat, near Falluja, of insurgents, marking their second independent operation. Marines from 1st Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment, Regimental Combat Team 8, assisted in the operation by providing security on the outer perimeter. The operation resulted in the detention of four suspected insurgents and enhanced relations between the citizens of Subiyhat and the Iraqi army.

Iraqi Military Police School Prepares Soldiers to ‘Serve and Protect’:
• The Iraqi Military Police School at An Numaniyah training base is training soldiers from the 10 Iraqi Army MP companies to further develop their military policing skills. The school trains and equips the soldier in an effort to standardize Iraqi MP units across the army. These units provide support in the form of battlefield circulation control, area security operations and law and order, in addition to enemy prisoner of war and detainee control operations.

Iraqi Navy Protects Country’s Oil Platforms:
• On February 7, the Iraqi Navy Marine Unit took the lead in protecting the Al Basrah Oil Terminal, which accounted for 98 percent of crude oil exports in 2005. Up until this month the platform Coalition forces were the lead protection force with assistance from the Iraqis. The Iraqi Navy’s primary mission is to protect the Iraqi coast, territorial waters, vital ports and offshore assets against both external and internal security threats.

[3.] Help Iraqis to Forge a National Compact for Democratic Government—Developments

Election/Government Formation:

• The Iraqi Transitional Government Prime Minister Ibrahim Jafari was nominated by the United Iraqi Alliance to continue as Prime Minister in the forthcoming government.

USAID conducts successful training on basic parliamentary skills:

• From January 24 to 26, the governance team for the National Democratic Institute conducted three days of training for 18 staff members of the Iraqi Council of Representatives. The training introduced the Iraqis to parliamentary theory and procedures, lessons in the function of parliament in society, the council’s current and evolving staff structure, the function of legislative committees, terminology, rules of procedure, fundamentals of time management, report writing skills, and techniques for holding effective meetings.

Karadah District Advisory Council (DAC) Air on Talk-Radio in Davenport:

• In coordination with Embassy Public Affairs Office, members of the Karadah (an area of Baghdad) and a radio station in Davenport, Iowa participated in a live radio talk show exchange. The Karadah DAC is one of the most progressive and successful councils in Iraq. The exchange lasted for 20 minutes even though it originally was scheduled for 10 minutes. The radio station expressed appreciation for the opportunity, and the council members were enthusiastic about their participation in the event.
3. Help Iraqis to Forge a National Compact for Democratic Government – Developments

IECI Official Announced 15 December 2005 Election Results:

The Independent Electoral Commission of Iraq announced the official election results on February 10.

Electricity availability in Baghdad dropped in the last week (February 7-13) with an average of 4.6 hours per day. Performance continues to be low due to poor performance by Baghdad area plants.

- Nationwide average electricity availability stayed steady at 10 hours per day.
- Despite the decreased levels, electricity output since the start of 2006 is approximately equal to that for the same period a year ago.
Electricity:

- Insurgents interdicted two natural gas pipelines feeding former power plants on February 12 and 15, impacting electricity generation this week. Wet conditions and lack of security are hampering efforts to repair critical transmission lines.

- Construction is complete on two USG-funded electrical distribution projects in the Erbil Province. The Khanzad Substation ($3.9M) and overhead feeder ($2.9M) will benefit over 30,000 people in the Khanzad and Erbil Communities. Out of the 14 electrical projects planned for the Erbil Province, six are under construction.

Education:

- Renovation of the Al Tarbia School in Adhamiyah, Baghdad Province was completed on February 8. This project consists of repairing damaged structural members, installing new electrical service, painting, remodeling restrooms, adding lights and ceiling fans, and general cleanup/leveling of school grounds. This facility will provide approximately 250 students in grades K-6 a better learning environment.
Public Health and Healthcare:

- A hospital in Shekhan Village, Ninawa Province, was recently renovated with $290,000 in USG funds. The hospital, which now includes a doctor’s residence and a new drug store, serves as the main hospital for four small villages and will provide improved medical care to over 3,000 Iraqis in these communities.

- Modernization of the Al Baladi Maternity and Pediatric Hospital in Sadr City is underway. Completion of this USG-funded $12.3 million project is anticipated in April 2006. Workers from Parsons Delaware Inc. and Al Farouq Co. repaired and replaced plumbing, electrical and mechanical systems.

Water and Sanitation:

- USAID grants have restored irrigation systems in 27 villages in northern Iraq using 225 Iraqis, including 19 skilled workers. Cleaning channels has enhanced agricultural productivity, improving farmers’ income and the local economy. Another USAID grant was used by a neighborhood council in central Iraq to repair its sewage system, benefiting nearly 5,000 residents. Pumping station repairs greatly reduced the presence of raw sewage in city streets.

- The Sadr Al-Yousefiyah water treatment plant in south Baghdad is now operational with assistance from US soldiers. A full time staff is also being trained to run and maintain the plant.
Transportation:

- The Iraq Reconstruction Management Office (IRMO) has approved the addition of up to $40 million for the completion of the Communications-Based Train-Control System. The Department of Transportation’s Volpe Center is providing technical assistance on specifications. A prototype installation for three locomotives is currently scheduled for March.

- The US Trade and Development Agency (USTDA)-funded project to develop a strategic business plan for the Iraqi Railroad is approaching completion. The contractor expects to present the draft plan to IRMO and the Iraqi Ministry of Transportation in late February, and to issue a final plan in March.

- Five miles of unimproved road were paved in Samarra, Salah Ad Din Province, providing access to a local school and other community services.

Communications:

- The Wireless Broadband Network project is complete and the system is operational at 35 government sites. Operations and maintenance and on-the-job Training is continuing.

- The Consolidated Fiber Network (CFN) is an extension to the existing Iraq Telephone and Postal Company (ITPC) fiber network that provides command, control and communications for the Ministry of Electricity (MoE) and additional capacity for ITPC. The overall project is over 25 percent complete, with on-schedule completion forecast for summer 2006. 42 Ministry of Electricity site assessments are complete and under review. Outside plant fiber cable work is 60 percent complete, providing fiber connectivity for 29 of the 42 sites.
[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy – Oil Update and Job Creation

Oil Update:

- Crude oil prices in world markets for the week ending February 10 closed with the following prices:
  - Basra Light at $52.60/barrel
  - Dated Brent at $60.77/barrel
  - WTI Cushing at $63.04/barrel
  - Oman/Dubai at $58.64/barrel

Central Bank’s US Dollar (USD) Currency Auction:

- The following table shows volume sold and exchange rates for USD in the Iraqi currency auction since October 2, 2005. The dinar remained stable against the dollar this week, ending at 1,477 dinars per USD on February 13.

*On January 8, the CBI purchased $1,320,000 of Iraqi Dinars at the exchange rate of 1481 NID/$.

*The NID exchange rate line is calculated as a weekly weighted average.
[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy

Social Safety Net Assessment Underway in Baghdad:

• The Baghdad Provincial Council (BPC) is supervising the collection of applications for inclusion in the list of the one million neediest families that will qualify for assistance under the new social safety net rules that were adopted by the Transitional National Assembly in December 2005.

Privatization of State-owned Enterprises:

• Some Iraqi ministers are showing an interest in moving forward with privatization of state-owned enterprises (SOE). The Ministry of Industry and Minerals (MIM) has taken the lead with an experimental plan to partially privatize two cement factories, with the government retaining at least 15 to 24 percent ownership. A key component, at least temporarily, is to restrict any work force restructuring.

• Last August, an inter-ministerial committee recommended a comprehensive, centralized “rehabilitation” of SOEs via a central agency to be created by new legislation. Although the agency has not yet been established, it has already encouraged other ministries to proceed with the privatization process.

Iraq Crop Dusting:

• Wheat and date palm crop dusting in Iraq should start as early as March 15. There is a particularly heightened need to spray this year since it has not been done for the past two years. IRMO is closely engaged with the central government to ensure spraying throughout Iraq begins on time.

The goal is to have on hand 15 days supply of all refined products, calculated on the basis of maximum consumption over the year and not adjusted for seasonal variation. The numbers given above are monthly averages.
Saddam Hussein Trial Update:

- Chief Judge Raouf Abdel-Rahman forced Saddam Hussein to attend his trial Monday. His top co-defendant and half brother Barzan Ibrahim sat on the floor, his back to the judge, for much of the session. The judge pressed ahead after the stormy start, sparked by his decision to order Saddam and his seven co-defendants to attend the session despite a defense boycott.

- During the three-hour session, prosecutors made their strongest attempt yet to directly link Saddam to executions that allegedly took place in a 1982 crackdown in the Shiite town of Dujail north of Baghdad.

- They produced documents, one with Saddam's handwriting, and put two members of Saddam's former regime on the stand as witnesses for the first time.

- On Tuesday deposed Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein told a Baghdad court that he and his seven co-accused are on hunger strike in protest at their treatment. The trial has been adjourned until February 28.
[7.] Increase International Support for Iraq – Developments

New Cartoon Controversy Developments:
• The provincial council in the Iraqi city of Basra demands the withdrawal of Denmark's 530-member military contingent from southern Iraq unless the Danish government apologizes for the publication of the drawings. European Commission President Jose Manuel Barroso backs Denmark in the dispute over the drawings, saying freedom of speech is a "fundamental value" that cannot be compromised.

WHO Team Investigates Bird Flu Cases:
• A WHO-led team of international experts, including epidemiological expertise from the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control, investigated the first human case of H5N1 avian influenza in the northern part of the Iraq. In addition to the confirmed fatal case, two patients under investigation for possible H5N1 infection have died. A possible H5N1 case in the southern part of the country has also been officially reported to WHO by the Ministry of Health however this has yet to be laboratory confirmed.
[7.] Increase International Support for Iraq – Developments

UN Security Council and International Community Welcomes Final Results of Election:
• On February 14 the UN Security Council welcomed the final results of the Iraqi election and called on political leader to form "a fully inclusive government" that will strive to build a democratic and united country. The Council also underlined the need for continuing and "enhanced international support" for Iraq and called on the United Nations “to play the fullest possible role" in the country. It also called on Iraq's neighbors to consider "how they can reinforce their contribution at this important time." Foreign Ministers and heads of organizations also publicly welcomed the results of the elections this week, including the Arab League Secretary General, EU Presidency, and Egyptian and UK Foreign Ministers.

29 Countries and NATO (including US) Support Iraqi Stability Operations
[8.0] Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents – Developments

Strategic Communications:

• On February 12, Ambassador Zalmay Khalilzad published an op-ed in the Los Angeles Times stating that “this is a moment of opportunity” in Iraq. “Thanks in part to systematic outreach efforts by the United States, Sunnis have undergone a sea change in attitude about participating in post-Hussein governance, culminating in their massive turnout in the December elections. To build on this progress, Iraq's leaders now need to agree on a process to unite the country.”

  – “First, they need to form a government of national unity. It means selecting ministers from all communities who will build political bridges, who are committed to a unified Iraq and who have demonstrated professional competence.

  – Iraqi leaders also must agree to a decision-making process that gives political minorities confidence that the majority will share power and take their legitimate concerns into account.

  – Next, Iraq's leaders need to agree on a true national compact for their country — a vision and set of political rules that will produce stability and progress.

  – Then, Iraq's leaders must forge an understanding with those insurgents who are willing to lay down their arms, join the political process and, perhaps, even enlist in the fight against the terrorists.

  – Sunni Arab rejectionists are joining the process of building a new and democratic Iraq. This not only opens the door for insurgents to permanently renounce violence and join the political process in order to stabilize Iraq, it also isolates the terrorists who are the enemy of all Iraqis.”
[8.0] Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents – Developments

Strategic Communications:

• On February 15, Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the FY 2007 State Department Budget. “The President's Budget this year is in support of a foreign policy that is devoted to the creation of a more hospitable environment for the forward march of freedom and democracy. Democratic processes must be supported around the world. These are transitional periods in some parts of the world, like the Middle East, and the democratic transitions are indeed difficult. But people have to have their voice and the United States must stand for a principle that democratic processes, no matter how difficult, are always preferable to the false stability of dictatorship. You will notice that this year the President is requesting funding for Iraq and Afghanistan where young democracies are trying to make their way towards stability.”

- The chart shows average daily power production in megawatt hours (MWh). 120,000 MWh goal equates to 20 hours at 6000 MW average supplied load or 24 hours at 5000 MW average supply load. Currently supplies are not much improved over last year when judged by hours of power, but this is due in part to an influx of new appliances. This has dramatically altered demand and diluted the effect of increased generation capacity on actual results.

- NOTE: Production dropped in the south due to tankers unable to dock at the oil terminals due to bad weather and southern storage facilities are at full capacity. With no where to send the crude, field managers have lessened output. As of Monday, the weather cleared and the situation should return to normal in a matter of days.
- Iraq Petroleum Sector Facts
  - There are three main refineries in Iraq: Bayji (North), Daura (Baghdad), and Basra (South).
  - There are several minor refineries (known as topping plants) dotted through the country: Kisik (Mosul), Qarrayah, Haditha, Tikrit, Nassiriyah, Maysan (Amarah), and Samawah. These primarily produce asphalt and low grade kerosene and diesel.
  - The majority of Iraq’s oil infrastructure is antiquated and in need of modernization.
  - Domestically produced refined products (gasoline/benzene, diesel, kerosene, LPG) currently do not meet domestic demand because of sabotage to the pipeline infrastructure. Iraq will be dependent upon imports until the insurgents cease operations against oil pipelines.

- Iraq-Syria-Lebanon Pipeline (ISLP)
  • This line has been closed since 2003.
  • Discussions were held between Iraqi and Syrian government officials, but no timetable has been set up to reopen this line.
  • In the meantime, Iraq has set up a barter arrangement in which it exports 14KBPD from the Ayn Zalah field to Syria for refined products and electrical production.
- Iraq Pipeline through Saudi Arabia (IPSA)
  • This line has been closed since 1991. There are no plans to reopen this line.
